

Missouri State Training Advisory Council

Created under Executive Order 81-24, the Missouri State Training Advisory Council (STAC) was established in 1981 as a collaborative endeavor by representatives of the executive, judicial and legislative branches of government as well as liaisons involved in the training arena to achieve proficient work skills, high productivity, and efficient management in Missouri state government by supporting the training of state employees.

In order to achieve this mission, STAC has five working committees with the following goals:

- Policy- To develop recommendations on Missouri's statewide training policy including the Management Training Rule and issues concerning professional development for all state workforce employees
- Curriculum Development- To implement and facilitate initiatives for leadership and development for state of Missouri employees
- Training Trends and Initiatives- To explore and examine new trends and initiatives in public and private sectors as it relates to training.
- Communication and Membership- To maintain current membership, encourage participation of employees in the training environment to maximize the potential benefits of STAC, coordinate the networking of trends, techniques, strategies, and resources, and provide easily accessible information to employees regarding STAC's mission and goals.
- Oversight- Comprised of the chair, co-chair, and vice chair, to facilitate decisions concerning leveraging of state funding and use of resources, to create reports, and to coordinate and facilitate meetings.
